

Streamline Your Entire Supply Chain with BuildPro: Residential Construction Supply Chain Management Software

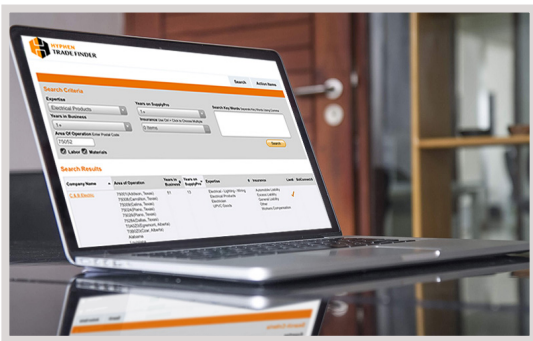

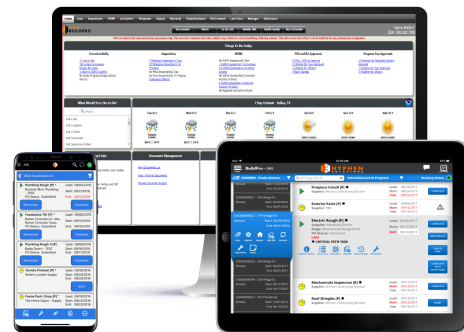

The Largest Home Builder Supply Chain Management Software in North America

BuildPro is the leader in Home Builder scheduling and project management software. Uniting Home Builders with their Suppliers, Contractors and Trades for improved communication and accountability in a single platform, BuildPro helps Builders complete new home construction projects efficiently and accurately.

Save Time & Money with BuildPro.

Schedule and execute new home build projects in less time with less effort than ever before by using BuildPro to receive and approve bids, schedule Suppliers and approve POs. By easing Supplier communications and removing risk, eliminate countless man-hours preparing start packs and reduce material costs such as paper, toner, envelopes, folders and postage. BuildPro makes your job much easier, freeing up time to focus on taking your business to new heights.

BuildPro Helps to Ease the Trade Burden.

Your trades will not have to call you every time they have a payment question. Now they can access updates on any account, at any time, and avoid multiple disconnected platforms. It's your warranty solution, inspections, lien releases and document management all in one portal. Every single Trade is handled digitally, with clear records saved in the cloud, eliminating miscommunications and misunderstandings.

More Efficiency with Advanced Communication.

BuildPro home construction project management software seamlessly integrates with your current back-office system, so tracking and reporting are a breeze. Stop relying on intuition, fax machines, duplicate data entry and notepads. With BuildPro's all-in-one dashboard, you can schedule, collaborate with Trades, approve PO payments, order receipts, obtain item details and more. BuildPro allows access to all of this on any device, whether it's desktop, tablet or mobile.

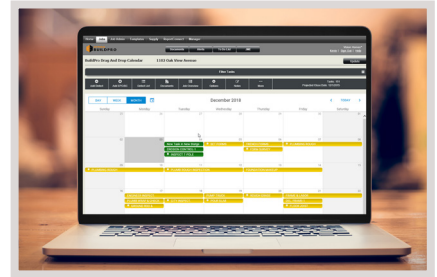

Streamline Purchasing and Accounting.

All BuildPro transactions are 100% paperless on our cloud-based platform, meaning no more printing, separating, filing or distributing paperwork. Transactions to and from Trades are instantaneous and occur in real-time, so no repetitive effort is needed any time changes are made. With BuildPro, you can now digitally receive paperwork from the field in a matter of a few clicks. Authorize payments, identify and submit PO errors and eliminate logistical issues by instantaneously transmitting payment data to your Trades on a secure platform.

BuildPro is the most powerful, comprehensive new home building management software on the market, which is why 21 out of the top 26 Home Builders in North America trust BuildPro every day.
